“The Gift of Story”

An evening with
LCMS author
Katie Schuermann

From fables to fairytales, stories throughout history have taught and inspired readers to better honor, love, and serve one another. Join author Katie Schuermann as she discusses the importance of storytelling in the life of the Christian and how every good story is a mere reflection of the greatest, truest story ever told: the fall of man into sin and God’s work of salvation for him in Jesus Christ.

Who: Lutheran ladies and friends

What: LWML hosts Katie Schuermann, author of Pew Sisters, House of Living Stones, He Remembers the Barren and more

Where: Our Redeemer Lutheran Church, Lexington, Kentucky

When: Friday, May 4, 2018 from 6:30-8:30 p.m.

Why: An evening to be encouraged and to have camaraderie with friends

*After her talk stick around for a chance to meet Katie and have your book signed. We will also serve refreshments unique to the beautiful state of Kentucky while you have fellowship with lovely women from around the region.

Author Katie Schuermann’s “earthy and joyful” voice is as refreshing and invigorating as the Midwestern sunshine in which she was raised. Writing in vignettes which so perfectly suit the charm of small-town life, Schuermann’s words call to mind the warmth and realism of Montgomery’s Avonlea and Herriot’s Yorkshire countryside. Always leaning toward the arts, Schuermann earned graduate degrees in music. Her professional experiences are as varied and eclectic as any writer’s, ranging from walking beans to singing with a Baroque orchestra to directing children’s musical theater camps. No doubt, Schuermann’s cornfield roots and curriculum vitae factor heavily in her stories, but it is her confession of faith in the Triune God that readers have come to expect and trust in her writing.
